Facts giving rise to the present Service Appeal.

- 1- That the appellant was the employee of the police and was on the strength of the police force Buner.
- 2- That during Taliban Militancy in Buner appellant was dismissed from the service by the respondent No. 3 vide order dated 13.04.2009. (Copy of impugned order is attached as Annexure-A).
- 3- That, neither my show cause notice, charge sheet, statement of allegation, inquiry, opportunity of defense, final show cause notice, opportunity of personal hearing has been served and provided respectively nor any publication has ever been made calling him for assumption of this duty.
- 4- That some of the colleagues of the appellant have been re-instated by Service Tribunal, Peshawar. (Copy of Judgments as Annexure-B).
- 5- That appellant feeling aggrieved, immediately preferred Departmental Appeal before respondent No. 2 and requested therein that case of the appellant is at par with those police officer, who have been re-instated into service by Department himself and Service Tribunal Peshawar, so the appellant has also entitled to re-instatement on

B) That the impugned order was retrospective order which was void and the eye of law and also void according to Superiors Court Judgment reported as 2002 SCMR 1129, 2006, PLC 221 and KPK Service Tribunal Judgment title as Abdul Shakoor VS Govt of KPK.

C) That according to superior court Judgment reported as 2015 SCMR 795 there is no limitation was run against the void order. Moreover, the Supreme Court of Pakistan has laid down vide reported Judgment PLD 2003 SC 724 and 2003 PLC (Civil Servant) 796 that the delay if any shall be condoned in respect of employee where delay already condoned in identical circumstances. All the person shall be treated equally who are sailing in the same board this principle is also held in latest Judgment cited as 2021 SCMR 1313 and 2022 PLC Civil Servant .94.

D) That the appellant has highly been discriminating. Other officials, who were also dismissed with the appellant have been reinstated by the respondent No. 1 and Khyber Pakhtunkhwa Service Tribunal whereas appellant has been denied the same treatment. The case of the appellant is similar and identical in all respect with those, who have been reinstated.

- E) That neither charge sheet, statement of allegation show cause notice was not served upon the appellant nor was inquiry conducted against the appellant, which was necessary and mandatory in law before imposing major punishment which is violation of law, rules and norms of justice.
- F) That the appellant has not been treated according to law despite he was a civil servant of the province, therefore, the impugned order is liable to be set aside on this score alone.
- G) That no chance of personal hearing was provided to the appellant as such the appellant has been condemned unheard throughout.
- H) That the appellant seeks permission to advance other grounds and proofs at the time of hearing.

It is therefore most humbly prayed that the appeal of the appellant may be accepted as prayed for.

Brief facts of the case are that the appellant while serving as constable in police department was proceeded against on the charges of absence from duty and was ultimately dismissed from service vide order dated 30-05-2009, against which the appellant filed departmental appeal followed by service appeal No 1385/2017, which was allowed vide judgment dated 29-01-2019 with direction to the appellate authority for re-deciding the appeal of the appellant within three months on merit and in accordance with law. On receipt of the judgment, the respondents once again regretted his departmental appeal vide order dated 27-05-2019, against which the appellant filed the instant service appeal with prayers that the impugned orders dated 30-05-2009 and 23-05-2019 may be set aside and the appellant may be re-instated in service with all back benefits.

02. Learned counsel for the appellant has contended that the impugned orders are void, against law and norms of natural justice, hence not tenable and liable to be set aside; that the appellant has not been treated in accordance with law, as such the respondents violated Article 4 and 25 of the Constitution; that codal formalities required for imposition of major penalty of dismissal from service has not been fulfilled, while issuing the impugned orders; that the respondents acted in arbitrary and mala fide manner, while issuing impugned dismissal orders dated 30-05-2009 and 27-05-2019; that the impugned order is void in a sense that retrospective effect have been given; that imposing major penalty of dismissal for 25 days absence is a harsh punishment and contrary to the norms of natural justice; that the appellant absented due to life threat to his person and his family due to militancy in the region, hence his absence was not willful, but was due to compelling reasons; that no regular inquiry has been conducted in the matter, which is must before imposition of major penalty of dismissal from service; that the appellant has been condemned unheard as no opportunity of defense was afforded to the appellant.

03. Learned District Attorney for the respondents has contended that it is correct that some of the police personnel including the appellant absented from their duty during the period of militancy but after pak army operation, the absent police personnel joined their duty but the appellant failed to resume his duty well in time; that being member of a disciplined force, the appellant absented himself from lawful duty, thus he was rightly dismissed from service; that vide judgment of this tribunal dated 29-01-2019; departmental appeal of the appellant was examined and the appellant was called in orderly room but the appellant failed to prove his innocence, hence his departmental appeal was rejected being barred by time.

05. Placed on record is an earlier judgment of this tribunal in service appeal No. 1385/2017 in favor of the appellant, which shows that the appellant was dismissed from service without conducting any inquiry against the appellant, nor any showcause was served upon the appellant and the appellant was condemned unheard. In view of the illegality on part of the respondents, the impugned orders were set aside and the appellant was re-instated in service with direction to the respondents to re-decide appeal of the appellant in accordance with law. In a manner, the period of limitation was condoned in submission of departmental appeal, but the respondents again filed his appeal on the issue of limitation without touching merits of the case, which amounts to negation of the verdict of this tribunal and on this score alone, the impugned orders are liable to be set aside. Besides, the respondents in many other similar cases has already re-instated other police personnel, who had deserted due to militancy and many others were re-instated by this tribunal, hence under the principle of consistency, the appellant also deserve the same treatment.

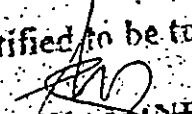

06. In view of the foregoing discussion, the instant appeal is accepted. The impugned orders dated 30-05-2009 and 23-05-2019 are set aside and the appellant is re-instated in service. The intervening period is treated as extra ordinary leave without pay. Parties are left to bear their own costs. File be consigned to record room.

02. Brief facts of the case are that the appellant while serving as Constable in Police Department was proceeded against on the charges of absence from duty and was ultimately dismissed from service vide order dated 12-10-2009. Feeling aggrieved, the appellant filed departmental appeal, which was rejected vide order dated 29-11-2017, hence the instant service appeal with prayers that the impugned orders dated 12-10-2009 and 29-11-2017 may be set aside and the appellant may be re-instated in service with all back benefits.

03. Learned counsel for the appellant has contended that the appellant has not been treated in accordance with law, hence his rights secured under the law had badly been violated; that the impugned order has been passed in violation of mandatory provision of law, hence such order is void and illegal. Reliance was placed on 2007 SCMR 1129 and 2006 PLC CS 221; that departmental appeal of the appellant was rejected being barred by time, but since the impugned order is void, hence no limitation would run against void order. Reliance was placed on 2015 SCMR 795; that delay if any is condonable if delay already condoned in identical cases. Reliance was placed on PLD 2003 SC 724 and 2003 PLC CS 796; that this tribunal in similar cases has already granted condonation of delay and granted relief, hence the appellant is also entitled to the same under the principle of consistency; that the appellant has been discriminated, as other police officials, who were dismissed with the appellant, have been re-instated, whereas the appellant has been denied the same treatment.

04. Learned District Attorney for the respondents has contended that the appellant willfully absented himself from lawful duty without permission of the competent authority, hence he was issued with charge sheet/statement of allegation and proper inquiry was conducted; that despite repeated reminders, the appellant did not join the disciplinary proceedings; that right from the date of his absence i.e. 06-01-2009 till his order of dismissal i.e. 12-10-2009, the appellant neither reported his arrival nor bothered to join inquiry proceedings rather remain dormant which clearly depicts his disinterest in his official duty; that after fulfillment of all the codal formalities, the appellant was awarded major punishment of dismissal from service in absentia; that the appellant preferred departmental appeal after lapse of 8 years, which was rejected being barred by time; that stance of the appellant being devoid of merit may be dismissed.

05. We have heard learned counsel for the parties and have perused the record.

06. Placed before us is cases of police constables, who alongwith many other police personnel had deserted their jobs in the wake of insurgency in Malakand division and particularly in District Swat. Police department had constituted a committee for cases of desertion and taking humanitarian view, re-instated such personnel into service in large number. Placed on record is a notification dated 01-11-2010, where 16 similarly placed employees had been re-instated on the recommendation of the committee constituted for the purpose. Other cases of similar nature have been noticed by this tribunal, where the provincial government had taken a lenient view keeping in view the peculiar circumstances in the area at that particular time and re-instated such deserted employees in service after years of their dismissal. Even this tribunal has already granted relief in similar nature cases on the principle of consistency. Appellants are also amongst those, who had deserted their jobs due to threats from terrorists. Coupled with this are dents in the departmental proceedings, which has not been conducted as per mandate of law, as the appellant in case of willful absence was required to be proceeded under general law i.e. Rule-9 of E& D Rules, 2011. Regular inquiry is also must before imposition of major punishment of dismissal from service, which also was not conducted.

07. Consequently, keeping in view the principle of consistency, the impugned orders are set aside and the appellants are re-instated in service. Since the appeals are decided on technical grounds more so while keeping in view the conduct of the appellants, they shall not be entitled to any of the back benefits, hence the absence period as well as the intervening period during which the appellants has not performed duty shall be treated as extra-ordinary leave

02. Learned counsel for the appellant has contended that the appellant has not been treated in accordance with law, hence his rights secured under the Constitution has badly been violated; that the impugned order is against law, facts and norms of natural justice, therefore not tenable and liable to be set aside; that absence of the appellant was not willful, but was due to compelling reason of terrorism in the area and which does not constitute gross misconduct entailing major penalty of dismissal; that the penalty so awarded is harsh, which does not commensurate with gravity of the guilt; that the appellant has been discriminated as similarly placed employees were re-instated but case of the appellant was not considered.

03. Learned Deputy District Attorney for the respondents has contended that the appellant willfully absented himself from lawful duty and did not turn up despite repeated summons; that the appellant while posted at Imam Dheri check post Police Station Kanjo absented himself without permission of the competent authority vide daily diary No 11 dated 17-10-2008; that the appellant was issued charge sheet/statement of allegation and proper inquiry was conducted; that the appellant was summoned repeatedly but he did not turn up; hence he was proceeded ex-parte; that after fulfillment of all codal formalities, the appellant was awarded with major punishment of dismissal from service vide order dated 2-02-2009; that the appellant filed departmental appeal with delay of more than seven year, which was considered but was rejected vide order dated 11-09-2017 being barred by time.

04. We have heard learned counsel for the parties and have perused the record.

05. Placed before us is case of a police constable, who alongwith many other police personnel had deserted their jobs in the wake of insurgency in Malakand division and particularly in District Swat. Police department had constituted a committee for cases of desertion and taking humanitarian view, re-instated such personnel into service in large number. Placed on record is a notification dated 30-11-2010, where 253 similarly placed employees had been re-instated on the recommendation of the committee constituted for the purpose. Vide another order dated 07-02-2012, batch of another 12 employees had been re-instated in service. Yet another order dated 15-03-2017 would show that similarly placed employee had been re-instated upon his revision petition on the ground of length of his service and threats from Taliban. Other cases of similar nature are available on record, which would suggest that the provincial government had taken a lenient view keeping in view the peculiar circumstances in the area at that particular time. Even this tribunal has already granted relief in similar nature cases on the principle of consistency. Appellant is also one among those, who had deserted his job due to threats from terrorists. Coupled with this are dents in the departmental proceedings, which has not been conducted as per mandate of law, as the appellant in case of willful absence was required to be proceeded under general law i.e. Rule-9 of E& D Rules, 2011. Regular inquiry is also must before imposition of major punishment of dismissal from service, which also was not conducted.

55. In view of the situation mentioned above and keeping in view the principle of consistency, we are inclined to partially accept the instant appeal by converting the major penalty of removal from service into minor penalty of stoppage of increments for two years. The intervening period is treated as leave without pay. Parties are left to bear their own costs. File be consigned to record room.

ATIQ-UR-REHMAN WAZIR MEMBER (E):- This single judgment

shall dispose of the instant service appeal as well as the connected Service Appeal bearing No. 571/2018 titled "Aamir Shah Versus District Police Officer, Kohat and two others", as common question of law and facts are involved therein.

02. Brief facts of the case are that the appellant while serving as constable in police department, was proceeded against on the charges of absence and was ultimately dismissed from service vide order dated 21-02-2009. Feeling aggrieved, the appellant filed departmental appeal dated 20-03-2009, which was not responded. Subsequent appeal was submitted to respondent No 2, which was rejected vide order dated 12-03-2018, hence the instant service appeal with prayers that the impugned orders dated 21-02-2009 and 12-03-2018 may be set aside and the appellant may be re-instated in service with all back benefits.

03. Learned counsel for the appellant has contended that the appellant was dismissed from service on the charges of absence but absence of the appellant was not willful but was due to compelling reason of terrorism; that a large number of police personnel had deserted their jobs due to threats of Taliban, who were again re-instated in service vide orders dated 30-11-2010, 15-03-2017 and 09-08-2017; but case of the appellant was not considered positively; that this Tribunal in numerous cases has already granted relief to the similarly placed employees and the appellant is also requesting for the same treatment under the principle of consistency; that absence of the appellant was not willful, which does not constitute gross misconduct and the penalty so awarded is harsh, which does not commensurate with gravity of the guilt; that the impugned order was issued with retrospective effect, which is void ab initio; that no codal formalities were fulfilled and the appellant has not been treated in accordance with law, hence his rights secured under the Constitution has badly been violated.

04. Learned Deputy District Attorney for the respondents has contended that the appellant was proceeded against on the charges of willful absence from duty, therefore proper departmental proceedings were initiated against him, which culminated into his removal from service under RSO 2000; that the appellant file departmental appeal with a considerable delay, which was rejected being barred by time; that numerous other officials were re-instated into service but every case has its own merits; whereas the appellant was awarded punishment for his own conduct; that final show cause notice was also served at his home address, but the appellant did not turn up, hence he was proceeded in absentia.

05. We have heard learned counsel for the parties and have perused the record.

Placed before us is case of a police constable, who along with many other police personnel had deserted their jobs in the wake of insurgency. Police department had constituted a committee for cases of desertion and keeping in view humanitarian aspect, re-instated such personnel into service in large number. Placed on record is a notification dated 30-11-2010, where 253 similarly placed employees had been re-instated on the recommendation of the committee constituted for the purpose. Vide another order dated 07-02-2012, batch of another 12 employees had been re-instated in service. Yet another order dated 15-03-2017 would show that similarly placed employee had been re-instated upon his revision petition on the ground of length of his service and cause of terrorism. Other cases of similar nature are available on record, which would suggest that the provincial government had taken a lenient view keeping in view the peculiar circumstances in the area at that particular time. Even this tribunal has already granted relief in similar nature cases under the principle of consistency. Appellant is also one among those, who had deserted his job due to threats from terrorists. Situation at that particular time was so perturbed, as how to proceed such large number of cases of desertion, for which publications were made in newspapers, hence the proceedings so conducted in such like cases were not in accordance with law. In the instant case no regular inquiry was conducted, nor any charge sheet/statement of allegation was served upon the appellant and the appellant was condemned unheard and which shows that the appellant was summarily proceeded without adhering to the method prescribed in law.

07. We are also mindful of the question of limitation, but since the impugned order was passed without proper legal process and when an adverse order is passed without fulfilling the legal formalities, such order is void and no limitation runs against void order. Still another reason exists for condonation of delay that the impugned order was issued with retrospective effect being void ab initio.

In view of the situation mentioned above and keeping in view the principle of consistency, we are inclined to partially accept the instant appeal as well as the connected service appeal by converting the major penalty of dismissal from service into minor penalty of stoppage of increments for two years. The intervening period is treated as leave without pay. Respondents however are at liberty to conduct de-novo inquiry as per mandate of law, if they so desire. 2. Respondents were summoned who filed their comments, where in Para 2 they have mainly supplied their defence to the instant constitutional petitions. Respondents in similar words in all these cases. Said Para is reproduced from their comments in the case of "Jawad Khan v. Chairman NADRA and others";

That the position of Customer Service Executive for newly established call Centre at Swat was advertised in daily newspaper "The Mashriq" on 14th August 2011. The eligibility criterion for the said post was Graduation with one-year experience. The petitioner applied for the post of Customer Service Executive and short listed for test/interview. During interview, the board clearly informed all the candidates who have qualified the test that their initial selection will be Data Entry operator ("DEO") on daily wages basis for a period of one month for on-job training because no candidate was found suitable for the position of Customer Service Executive. Office letter was issued to the petitioner as DEO on daily wages basis vide No. NADRA/HR/AP/35/CC/Swat dated 10th January 2012 (Copy enclosed as Annexure-A) in which all terms and conditions were clearly mentioned regarding further selection as Customer Service Executive. The petitioner accepted the offer letter and joined as DEO on daily wages basis and the same was not objected by him at that time. After completion of one month on-job training as per office letter, all candidates who have been selected as DEO on daily wages basis were reviewed through test/interview. In this regard, review test was held on 20th and 21st February, 2012 at Call Centre Swat. Candidates whose performance were outstanding during the training and also qualified the test/interview were selected as Customer Service Executive in O-4 scale at Call Centre Swat. The petitioner appeared in review test but due to overall poor performance during one month on-job training, the board recommended that Mr. Jawad Khan is not suitable for the post of Customer Service Executive. However, instead of terminating his service, he was posted as DEO on short term basis against requirement of NADRA Registration Office Malakand on 23.04.2012 for period of six months. Which has been executed from time to time based on Organization requirements."

well as fair treatment according to law as it had been their fundamental rights been numerous but each one of them deserves respect being citizen of the land as such like treatment to be meted to petitioners. Job seekers in this country may have their circumstances to accept the offer but it is very difficult for us to digest or allow had been accepted by them and that they have felt themselves compelled because of grievance before this Court. They may have felt themselves compelled because of qualified for the advertised posts, therefore they had been offered lower posts which accept the plea of NADRA recruiting authorities that petitioners had not been found to doubt prefer jobs in public sector corporations. We are therefore not inclined to much worse when it comes to employment in public sector corporations. People no Pakistan, unfortunately, while relatively lesser jobs are available. The ratio become hidden truth that a very high proportion of unemployed youth are available in offer even if it was much below the post for which they had applied. It is not a unemployment the petitioners would have felt themselves compelled to accept the applied. It was also understandable that due to the extraordinary high rate of Data Entry Operators in a grade and scale much below the posts for which they had subject posts. In the end, they have been handed over an order of appointment as for the said posts, their test and interview has admittedly been conducted for the the posts of Call Centre/ Customer Service Executive in O-4, petitioners had applied treated by the recruiting authorities in NADRA. They had invited applications for 6. It was a strange way in which petitioners, in all the writ petitions, have been

He further added that the writ petitions were hit by the principle arising out of their services in the corporation and the instant writ petitions have not could not agitate their grievance before this Court which grievances have been corporation have not been statutory, therefore the petitioners in all these petitions 571, 2017 SCMR 1979 and 2019 SCMR 984 and stated that since rules of the of NADRA relied upon judgments of Hon'ble Apex Court reported as 2017 SCMR 4. In order to bolster his submissions, he also relied upon judgments guaranteed under Article 4 of the Constitution. Said article reads;

A.4 Right of individuals to be dealt with in accordance with law, etc.-(1) To enjoy the protection of law and to be treated in accordance with law is the inalienable right of every citizen, wherever he may be and of every other person for the time being within Pakistan.

It was in such circumstances that this Court has allowed writ petition of a similarly placed petitioner vide its judgment dated 28.03.2018 passed in W.P. No. 49-M/2012 by observing;

"We are not persuaded with the arguments of learned counsel for the respondents, that the performance of petitioner was poor that he could not be appointed to the subject post of Call Data Executive, the conduct of the petitioner also provides sufficient force to this view as he is pursuing his remedy from the year 2012 through the instant writ petition and by now he must have gained sufficient experience required for the subject post. Therefore, we feel that the instant writ petition should be allowed and so respondents are directed to appoint the petitioner to the post of Call Centre Executive as advertised through advertisement in daily newspaper dated 14.08.2011 but from today and not with retrospective effect. There shall be no order as to costs."

Had the petitioners been not found suitable for the job, they may have been refused and the seats may have been re-advertised. It is also very strange to note that among the whole lot of applicants not a single person was found suitable for the job, jobs whenever advertised. This is common observation that whenever jobs are advertised in public sector corporations, people having more qualification than the one required, and having more expertise than needed for the job comes forth and offer their services. In such a situation this is not believable that the recruiting authorities of NADRA would not have found even a single person capable of appointment to the post of Customer Service Executive for simply running a Call Centre in a District. It was not a post of an astronaut nor was running of Call Centre a rocket science. The plea of respondents is therefore not found appealable to a reasonable mind. Article 3 of the Constitution mandates the State authorities to ensure elimination of all forms of exploitation and gradual fulfillment of the fundamental principle, from each according to his ability, to each according to his work. We do not find the petitioners at the hands of an employer in public sector and unfair treatment of the petitioners. It has been held by this Court in its earlier judgment rendered in the case of "Dr. Shamsheer Ali Khan and 27 others v. Government of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa through Secretary Finance and 2 others" reported as 2019 MLD 87 that when actions of a public body were found unfair or unreasonable, expectation and promissory estoppel. It was further highlighted in the judgment that the doctrine of promissory estoppel and legitimate expectation were equitable

8. Laches has been relevant in grant or refusal of discretionary or equitable reliefs and is considered relevant, but it has never been taken as an absolute bar, in cases where petitioners were found entitled to a relief which has already been granted by Courts of law to similarly placed other petitioner. A six member Bench of Hon'ble Supreme Court of Pakistan has held in the case of Saddagar Ali Khan through LRs and others v. Collector Land Acquisition and others reported as PLD 2010 Supreme Court 878, in this respect ;

7. The objection of representative of respondents regarding the instant writ petition being barred by principle of laches, cannot be taken to the effect to deprive the petitioners from a right to which they had otherwise been entitled. Petitioners were found to have been similarly placed with petitioner in W.P. No. 549-M/2012, which have already been allowed by this Court and we were also informed that said judgment had already been implemented by respondents. When a similarly placed employee would be working as Customer Service Executive while petitioners are allowed to continue their job as Data Entry Operators, they would no doubt get appointment order wherein it has been stated that the terms of offer have been strictly confidential and upon acceptance same would form the basis of contract with NADRA. His assertion in this respect is also considerable that the terms of appointment being dictated to be confidential, may have resulted in certain apprehensions in the mind of petitioners that taking the matter to a Court of law might cause them more harm than benefit.

"The argument of the learned counsel for the respondents that writ to the respondent can only be issued, when the government or for that matter the respondent institution has taken an action in disregard of some law, can't be endorsed. It is by now settled law that the actions of the respondent while dealing with the people, if are unfair or unreasonable, can be corrected by the Constitutional Court on the principles of legitimate expectations and promissory estoppel. The doctrine evolved by the judges while adjudicating upon the complaint lodged by the aggrieved party against an unfair and arbitrary action of the government. It falls in sphere of neither contract nor statutory estoppel. It can be said that if the government promises to any person and the promise is not inconsistent with the law of the land and not against the public interest, then afterwards the government cannot refuse to abide by its promise and in case the government acts inconsistent with its promise, then the said action of the government is subject to the judicial review by the constitutional Court."

9. The other objection of respondents regarding the fact that the instant constitutional petitions have not been maintainable due to the reason that service of the petitioners have not yet been clothed with the attire of statutory rules. It is sufficient to say that grievances of the petitioners have been arising from unfair treatment meted to them at the time of their appointments. Their grievance has not risen when the rules of NADRA authorities had become applicable to them. In other words, they have not been agitating any of the grievance of violation of statutory rules of NADRA. Appointments were made by NADRA authorities under the powers vested in it by section 35 of the National Database and Registration Authority Ordinance, 2000 (hereinafter referred to as "the Ordinance"). NADRA has been established under section 3 of the Ordinance. Subsections (1), (2) and (3) of section 3 are relevant in this respect, which are reproduced hereunder for ready reference; (1) As soon as may be, but not later than thirty days after the commencement of this Ordinance, the Federal Government shall, by notification in the Official Gazette, establish an Authority to be known as the National Database

Further reliance in this respect may be placed on judgment in the case of Farhat Baz Khan through L.H.R.s v. Syed Jehanzeb and others reported as PLD 2013 Supreme Court 268. In the case of Hameed Akhtar Niazi v. The Secretary, Establishment Division, Government of Pakistan and others reported as 1996 SCMR 85, Hon'ble Supreme Court of Pakistan had held that "if the Service Tribunal or the Supreme Court of Pakistan decides a point of law relating to terms and conditions of service of a civil servant, which covers not only the case of civil servant who is aggrieved, but also of other civil servants, who may have not taken any legal proceedings, in such a case, the dictates and rule of good governance demanded that the benefit of such judgment is extended to other civil servants." The dictates of just administration of a public sector corporation would also require that similar treatment is extended to petitioners of the instant petitions and they are given same benefit. Further reliance in this respect may be placed on judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court of Pakistan in the case of Government of Punjab, through Secretary Education, Civil Secretariat, Lahore and others v. Sameena Parveen and others reported as 2009 SCMR 1. The bar of laches, in such circumstance, may conveniently be ignored by a constitutional court.

(2) The Authority shall be a body corporate, with power to acquire, hold and dispose of property, having perpetual succession and a common seal and shall by that name sue and be sued.

(3) The Authority shall consist of a Chairman, also to be called the Registrar General of Pakistan, and [not less than] five members to be appointed by the Federal Government.

The purpose, objects, functions and powers of the authority have been given in detail in section 5 of the Ordinance which leaves no doubt that it had been performing governmental functions. Reproduction of subsections (1), (2) and (3) of section 5 would also be beneficial for the present discourse, which are accordingly reproduced hereunder;

(1) The purpose and objects of the Authority shall be to formulate and implement policies and plans for:

(a) the development and establishment of an improved and modernized system of registration in the country through appropriate means including technologically advanced, effective and efficient means like computerization, automation, creation of databases, data warehousing, networking, interfacing of databases and related facilities and services;

(b) the broadening of the registration base to bring within its purview all persons and things, wherever and whatever they may be, to the extent and in the manner laid down in this Ordinance; and

(c) the establishment and maintenance of multi-purpose databases, data warehousing, networking, interfacing of databases and related facilities and services.

(2) The purposes of developing, establishing or maintaining a registration or database system may include facilitation of identification, planning, or any other purpose permitted by law.

(3) The Authority may take such measures and exercise such powers and perform such functions as it considers necessary for carrying out the purposes of this Ordinance.

The above reproduced section clearly shows that NADRA has been performing governmental functions, directly under the authority of the Federal Government which is also evident from section 3 of the Ordinance and thus there has been no doubt that NADRA has been amenable to the constitutional jurisdiction of this Court. The question that writ petition of an employee in respect of violation of non-statutory rules of NADRA, is not maintainable is a different question altogether. If grievance of an employee arose out of any adverse order passed against him during his service, under the un-statutory rules, a writ petition before a High Court would no doubt be non-maintainable according to ratios of judgments in
