Regulations (CSR) by itself did not provide for the entitlement for the purposes of pension, rather it was restricted to the counting of the period of a minimum of five years which had been rendered by the temporary employee that once he was appointed on a permanent basis, such period (of five years) shall be taken into account for the object of calculating his entitlement to pension with respect to the requisite minimum period under the law.

Mir Ahmad Khan v. Secretary to Government and others 1997 SCMR 1477 declared to be per incuriam

Article 371-A cannot be used as a tool to bypass the conditions for qualifying service of pensionary benefits, and such government servant had to fulfill the minimum number of years for grant of pension. This was due to the use of the word "count" as opposed to "qualify" or "eligible" in Article 371-A of the Civil Service Regulations (CSR).

It was absurd, ludicrous and inconceivable that a government servant, who was in regular employment, would become entitled to pension after serving the minimum years of qualifying service as prescribed by the law, whereas while interpreting Article 371-A of the Civil Service Regulations (CSR), a government servant who had served as a temporary employee could be given preference over a regular employee, and after a minimum service of only five years would automatically become entitled to pension. Holding so would be against the object and spirit of the concept of pension.

(d) Civil Service Regulations (CSR)---

---Art. 371-A---Pensionary benefits---Government servants rendering temporary service in a temporary establishment---"Temporary establishment"---Meaning---Temporary establishment could be said to mean an organisation or institution which was not permanent, rather effective for a certain period only.

JUDGMENT

MIAN SAQIB NISAR, J:- These appeals, by leave of the Court, involve a similar question of law, hence are being disposed of together. The key question involved herein is whether persons who have rendered more than five years' service in a temporary establishment are entitled to the grant of pensionary benefits within the meaning of Article 371-A of the Civil Service Regulations (CSR), and a re-visitation of the judgment of this Court reported as Mir Ahmad Khan v. Secretary to Government and others (1997 SCMR 1477).

Civil Appeal No.1072/2005:

2. This appeal entails the facts in that the respondent was appointed as an Assistant Executive Engineer in any way fall within the meaning and purview of "temporary establishment". Thus the respondent could not rely upon Article 371-A of the CSR. Besides, if hypothetically speaking Pakistan Locomotive Factory Risalpur was a temporary establishment, even then the respondent would not be able to take the benefit of Article 371-A (supra) as he otherwise does not qualify for pensionary benefits having not been subsequently taken into permanent employment, which is sine qua non for the grant thereof.

8. Adverting to the law laid down in the case of Mir Ahmad Khan (supra) wherein it was held:-

"Admittedly the appellant put in more than ten years' temporary service before his services were terminated he was, therefore, entitled to pensionary benefits under Regulation 371-A(i) of Civil Service Regulations."

In light of the discussion in paragraph No.6, the judgment delivered in Mir Ahmad Khan's case (supra) is declared to be per incuriam.

9. In view of the foregoing, we find that the respondent was not entitled to the grant of pensionary benefits in terms of Article 371-A of the CSR, and the learned Service Tribunal had erroneously allowed him pension by wrongly relying upon the case of Mir Ahmad Khan (supra) which is declared to be per incuriam.

10. The above are the detailed reasons for our short order of even date whereby the appellants' appeal was accepted and the impugned judgment was set aside, which reads as follows:-

"We have heard the arguments of learned ASCs for the parties. For the reasons to be recorded later, this appeal is allowed, the impugned judgment of the Federal Service Tribunal dated 29.12.2003 is set aside and the service appeal preferred by the respondent is dismissed."

Civil Appeal No.686/2012:

11. The brief facts of the instant appeal are that the appellant was a Professional Teaching Certification (PTC) Teacher in the Commissionerate for Afghan Refugees, Peshawar (Commissionerate) from 28.2.1987 to 17.1.2005, i.e. approximately 18 years. During her employment at the Commissionerate, she applied for two months leave on 20.1.2004, after which she was appointed as a PTC Teacher in the Schools and Literacy Department, Government of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa (department) and she assumed charge of her post on 25.11.2004 and tendered her resignation with the Commissionerate on 10.1.2005. Thereafter she filed a departmental appeal to respondent No.1 claiming that her 18 years' service with the Commissionerate be counted for the purposes of her pension, which (departmental appeal) was accepted vide order dated 24.6.2008. However, the said order stated that her 10 years' service be counted towards calculation of her pension, as opposed to 18 years, which the appellant was dissatisfied with thus she filed a corrigendum application for correction of the said mistake. However, in response, the department on 20.7.2009 informed the appellant that her prior service with the Commissionerate could not be counted towards her pension. Aggrieved, the appellant filed an appeal before the learned Khyber Pakhtunkhwa Service Tribunal which was dismissed vide the impugned judgment dated 9.4.2012 whereafter she approached this Court. Leave was granted on 5.7.2013 in the following terms:-

"..... Prima facie, it is difficult to understand that admittedly when the petitioner had served for a period of about 18 years in the Commissionerate and thereafter joined the Education Department and initially the Education Department had also accepted her claim allowing computing of her previous service for the purpose of pension then what prevailed with the department subsequently in disallowing continuity. In view of the judgment cited by the learned counsel in the case of Zafar Shah (2003 SCMR 686) in such like circumstances, continuity for the purpose of extending the benefit of pension is permissible.

3. Inter alia, to examine this aspect of the case, leave to appeal is granted in this case...."

Subsequently on 19.9.2013, it was decided that this case was to be heard along with Civil Appeal No.1072/2005 before the larger bench as they both involved similar questions of law.

12. Learned counsel for the appellant primarily submitted that the time spent at the Commissionerate is to be counted towards her pension in terms of Article 371-A of the CSR.

13. On the other hand, learned counsel for the respondents stated that due to the special facts and circumstances prevalent at that time, the decision rendered in the case of Mir Ahmad Khan (supra) is good law, however in the instant matter, the appellant is not entitled to inclusion of the period she spent as an employee of the Commissionerate for the purposes of pensionary benefits for the reason that she was in fact a project employee of a non-governmental organisation called Basic Education for Afghan Refugees (BEFARé), and not an employee of the Federal Government, and that she had resigned from the Commissionerate on 10.1.2005 after which she joined the department.

14. Learned Additional Advocate General, KPK adopted the arguments of Mr. Hafiz S. A. Rehman, learned counsel for the appellants in Civil Appeal No.1072/2005.

15. Heard: The appellant's main grievance is that the eighteen years she spent at the Commissionerate be counted towards her service at the department for the purposes of the grant of pensionary benefits as per Article 371-A of the CSR, suffice it to say that the Commissionerate for Afghan Refugees does not in any way fall within the meaning of "temporary establishment" as defined in Civil Appeal No.1072/2005 above to mean an organisation or institution which is not permanent, rather effective for a certain period only as described. Even otherwise, the appellant's service with the department was temporary and on a contract basis, and there is nothing on the record which suggests that she was subsequently confirmed or made permanent within the department. Therefore keeping in view the interpretation of Article 371-A of the CSR explained above with regard to Civil Appeal No.1072/2005 in that the said article would not ipso facto allow government servants rendering temporary service in a temporary establishment for more than five years to be entitled to grant of pension, rather such period would only be counted towards such government servants' pension if otherwise entitled to pension, we are of the opinion that the appellant is not entitled to pensionary benefits as claimed by her.

16. In light of the above, we find no infirmity in the impugned judgment warranting interference by this Court, therefore this appeal is dismissed as being devoid of merit.

(a) Civil Servants (Appeal) Rules, 1977---

---R.4(1)---Appeal from an 'order' passed by an authority---"Order"---Scope---For preferring an appeal in terms of R. 4 of the Civil Servants (Appeal) Rules, 1977, there had to be an order altering, interpreting to a civil servant's disadvantage, reducing or withholding his maximum pension and allowances. --In such grievances/proceedings no particular form of order was required and even pension fixation notices could be treated as an order for the purposes of availing the remedy of appeal under R. 4 of the Civil Servants (Appeal) Rules, 1977.

(b) Civil Servants (Appeal) Rules, 1977---

---Pensionary rights; claim for---Limitation---Grievance in respect of pensionary benefits was a recurring cause, consequently, limitation could not come in the way of such relief--- Where, however, such pensionary benefit was altered or interpreted to the disadvantage of a civil servant or his pension was reduced or his maximum pension was withheld including an additional pension admissible to him under the rules then his grievance to that extent had to be regulated in terms of R. 4(1) of the Civil Servants (Appeal) Rules, 1977.

ORDER

SAJJAD ALI SHAH, J.---The appellants who are retired civil servants have impugned the order of the Service Tribunal dated 26.8.2016 declining the reckoning of increment by way financial relief of Rs. 300/- per month in the monthly salary for computing, pensionary emoluments from the date of retirement for want of impugned order as required by section 4(1)(a) of the Service Tribunals Act, 1973.

2. Briefly, the Prime Minister's Secretariat on 11.3.1997 issued an U.O. No.16(P)PMDIR/931/97 in compliance of Prime Minister's address to the Nation on 23.2.1997 regarding financial relief of Rs.300/- per month to the low paid employees. The appellants were allowed such relief till the date of their retirement but such benefit was not included in their last pay for commuting pension and other post-retirement benefits on the ground that it was an ad hoc relief. It appears that the appellants, in the year 2016, filed departmental appeals and after getting no response approached the Service Tribunal. The Tribunal, after hearing the parties, through the impugned order, dismissed their appeals by holding that "there is a yawning gap of over eighteen years since the appellant retired w.e.f. Feb, 1998. The appellant should have come within the statutory period as prescribed under Rule-4 of the Service Tribunals Act, 1973, when came to know that Rs.300/- per month announced by the Prime Minister had not been computed in the pensionary benefits" and that "it is admitted position that in the is at hand there is no impugned order; hence, appeal filed by the appellant is hit by section 4(1)(a) of the Service Tribunal Act, 1973. When there is no impugned order, there should be no representation or appeal, hence, as a corollary no appellate order":-

3. Leave was granted by this Court vide order dated 27.1.2017 which reads as under:-

"that the non or deficient grant of pension is a recurring cause of action and thus to hold that the petitioners have been sleeping over their rights since long; besides that they have failed to avail any departmental remedy such as that of appeal or representation is misconceived because no departmental appeal to a retired employee for pensionary benefits is available under the law and thus a civil servant aggrieved of the short payment or non-payment of the pensionary benefits can directly approach the learned Service Tribunal for the claim of their pensionary benefits. Leave is granted to consider the above."

4. Learned ASC for the appellants contended that this Court in the case of Managing Director, Pakistan Railways, Carriage Factory, Islamabad v. Muhammad Asghar (2003 SCMR 1037) has held that the increase of Rs.300/- per month announced by the Prime Minister in his address to the nation granting financial relief to the low paid employees was neither ad hoc nor a temporary relief and was liable to be included for calculating pension and other post-retirement benefits and, therefore, the Tribunal has erred in rejecting the appellants' claim for want of the impugned order. Per counsel since the pensionary benefit being terms and conditions of the service and available under the law, therefore, the civil servants aggrieved of short payment or non-payment of pensionary benefits could directly approach the Service Tribunal to claim such benefits or their short fall and that there was no requirement of any impugned order.

5. On the other hand, learned counsel for the respondents initially tried to argue that the relief so allowed in consequent to the Prime Minister's address was an ad hoc relief but in view of the pronouncement of this Court in the case of Managing Director, Pakistan Railways, Carriage Factory, Islamabad (supra), did not press this argument, however, contended that the claim is hit by laches and, therefore, was rightly declined. It was lastly submitted that since such relief was discontinued w.e.f. 1.12.2001 vide Finance Division's O.M. No.F(1)(5)IMP 2001 dated 4.9.2001 on introducing revised pay scales, therefore, the employees who retired after 1.12.2001 were not entitled to such benefit. However, the entitlement of the appellants to the relief claimed was not disputed on factual plane.

6. In response, learned ASC for the appellant submitted that none of the appellant retired after 1.12.2001, therefore, such submission is not even relevant for the purposes of instant controversy.

7. We have heard the contentions of learned counsel for the respective parties and have perused the record. The procedure to be followed by a civil servant in case where his conditions of service in respect of pay, allowances or pension are altered, interpreted to his disadvantage, reduced or withheld etc. is detailed in section 4(1)(a) to (c) of the Civil Servants (Appeal) Rules, 1977, which reads as under:-

"4.(1) A civil servant shall be entitled to appeal to the appellate authority from an order passed by an authority which -

- (a) alters to his disadvantage, his conditions of service, pay, allowances or pension; or
- (b) interprets to his disadvantage the provisions of any rules whereby his conditions of service, pay, allowances or pension are regulated; or
- (c) reduces or withholds the maximum pension, including an additional pension, admissible to him under the rules governing pensions; or
- (d) ...."

8. Perusal of the reproduced provision reflects that a civil servant has to file an appeal

Signature and date stamp: 11/12/2001

respondents on two counts; firstly, that after determination of this controversy by this Court in above referred case where the respondents unsuccessfully had challenged the inclusion of such financial relief towards pensionary benefits, it was their bounden duty to include such benefit at least in the cases of employees who, like the present appellants, were entitled to such relief even if their argument of discontinuation of such relief on 1.12.2001 i.e. upon introduction of revised pay scales is accepted. Secondly, neither the representation of the appellants was rejected by the respondents on the ground of being barred by time nor the Service Tribunal gave any specific finding or held the petition barred by time.

14. In the instant case the employees of the respondent/Pakistan Railways who were granted relief by this Court in the case of Managing Director, Pakistan Railways, Carriage Factory, Islamabad (supra) had preferred representation by treating the pension fixation notices as an order interpreting the financial relief of Rs.300/- P.M. to their disadvantage. The Tribunal accepted their appeal by redressing their grievances and directing the respondent/Pakistan Railways to include the financial relief of Rs.300/- P.M. allowed by the Prime Minister in reckoning their pensionary benefits which order was maintained by this Court in the judgment referred and reproduced above. Following their colleagues, the appellants herein instead of filing appeal in terms of Rule 4 of the Civil Servants (Appeal) Rules, 1977, had moved the representation to the appellate authority which could be treated as an un-responded appeal, had approached the Tribunal which, in our opinion, appears to be sufficient compliance of section 4(1)(1) of the Service Tribunals Act, 1973 specially when the claim of the appellants was backed by the judgment of this Court.

15. In the foregoing circumstances, all these appeals are allowed and the respondent/Pakistan Railways is directed to include the financial relief of Rs. 300/- P.M. for computing post retirement benefits. Parties to bear their own costs.

- LIV) Ghazala Naz v. Province of the Punjab through Secretary Higher Education Department and others (Service Appeal No.4065/ 2016).

2. Appellants filed instant appeals under section 4 of the Punjab Service Tribunal Act, 1974 praying that the appellants may be regularized in their services w.e.f. their date of initial appointments with all back pensionary and other benefits and their previous length of service about 15 years be considered as a regular employee and seniority may also be fixed from the date of original appointments and the probation period may also be considered as regular service by way of setting aside the impugned order dated 9.5.2016.

3. Briefly, the departmental authorities established eight colleges during the period from 1998-1999 and the Director of Education (Colleges), Rawalpindi recruited 70 female lecturers along with other staff on contract basis through Departmental Selection Committee for a period of three years with the approval of the competent authority. The Higher Education Department extended their contract services from time to time but they were not regularized despite rendering long service without break. It is also mentioned that the services of other lecturers recruitment by the respondent department during this period were regularized gradually.

Appellants along with other female lecturers filed Writ Petitions Nos.2713/2009 and 2722/2009 in the Lahore High Court, Rawalpindi Bench, Rawalpindi for regularization of their services. The said writ petitions were accepted vide orders dated 4.4.2012 with the following direction:--

"For the reasons supra, both the writ petition are accepted and the respondents are directed to regularize the petitioners with immediate effect within a period of two months".

Thereafter, the respondent department filed I.C.A. No.155/2012 assailing the judgment dated 4.4.2012 which was dismissed vide order dated 16.5.2013, hence the judgment of the Hon'ble Lahore High Court, Rawalpindi Bench, Rawalpindi has attained finality.

In compliance of the order of the Hon'ble Lahore High Court, Rawalpindi Bench, Rawalpindi, appellants along with other lecturers who were on the strength of Higher Education Department on 4.12.2014 were regularized into government service with immediate effect vide Notification No.SO(CE-III)61-2/2009 dated 4.12.2014 and not from the date of their initial appointments.

Aggrieved of the notification dated 4.12.2014, appellant preferred departmental appeals which were not decided and later on, appellants filed Service Appeals Nos. 1788, 1790 to 1800 of 2015 and 2050 to 2090 of 2015 which were decided by this Tribunal vide order dated 18.2.2016 with direction to the Secretary, Higher Education Department, Government of the Punjab, Lahore to decide the pending representations/departmental appeals of the appellants within a period of 30 days.

In deference to the same, the Secretary, Higher Education Department, Government of the Punjab, Lahore vide order dated 9.5.2016 decided the representations/ departmental appeals of the appellants and refused the claim of the appellants as prayed. Hence these appeal.

4. I have considered the arguments of both parties and perused the record.
5. It is established from the record that the appellants were appointed as female lecturers through

d judgement

Departmental Selection Committee in the year, 1998-99 on contract basis for a period of three years. The contract services of the appellants were extended from time to time without any break for about 15 years.

6. It has been noticed that the appellants were met with discriminatory treatment which is established from the facts and documentary evidence relied upon by the learned Counsel for the appellants that the other employees of the Government of the Punjab through different orders/notifications were regularized but the claim of the appellants that their employment may be regularized from the date of initial appointments was refused which shows that they have been dealt with discrimination by the Higher Education Department, Government of the Punjab.

In this regard I may observe here that it has been settled by the Hon'ble Supreme Court of Pakistan that seniority of a civil servant was to be reckoned from the date of initial appointment and not from the date of confirmation or regularization.

7. In this regard reliance can easily be placed on the judgment of the Full Bench of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of Pakistan titled as "Muhammad Aslam Awan, Advocate Supreme Court v. Federation of Pakistan and others" reported as 2014 SCMR 1289 held as under:-

"civil servant---Seniority of---Reckoned from date of initial appointment---If service matters while considering the seniority of civil servants, the seniority was reckoned from the date of initial appointment and not from the date of confirmation or regularization".

8. For what has been discussed above, I came to the conclusion that the appellants were entitled for regularization from the date of their initial appointments as Lecturers, hence these appeals are allowed by setting the impugned orders.

SERVICE QUALIFYING FOR PENSION

1. Conditions of Qualifications :- The service of a Government servant does not qualify for pension unless it conforms to the following three conditions:-

First:- The Service must be under Government.

Second:- The service must not be Non-pensionable.

Third:- The service must be paid by Government from the Provincial consolidated fund.
Rule.2.1.

SERVICE RENDERED AFTER RETIRMENT ON SUPERANNUATION PENSION.

Service rendered after retirement on superannuation pension/retiring pension shall not count for pension or gratuity. Note below Rule - 2.1

3. Beginning of service: Subject to any special rules, the services of civil servant being to qualify for pension when he takes over charge of the post to which he is first Rule 2.2.

4. Temporary and officiating service:- Temporary and officiating service shall count for pension as indicated below:-

- (i) Civil servants borne on temporary establishment who have rendered more than five years continuous temporary service shall count such service for the purpose of pension or gratuity: and
- (ii) Temporary and officiating service followed by confirmation shall be count for pension or gratuity .Rule 2.3.

CLARIFICATION OF PHRASE - QUALIFYING SERVICE

Temporary and officiating service followed by confirmation or temporary/officiating service exceeding five years qualifies for pension.

Some confusion seems to exist in some quarters as to how condonation of interruptions between two spells of temporary /officiating service may be regulated under rule 2.12 (1) of the West Pakistan civil services pension Rule. According to Rule 2.3 ibid temporary and officiating service followed by confirmation or temporary/ officiating service of more than five years counts for pension / gratuity.

The provisions of rule 2.12(1) take cognizance of only those cases where the government servant had prior to the interruption period of qualifying service towards pension/gratuity. The condonation of interruptions in service with a view to allowing past Non- qualifying temporary /officiating service to qualify for pension gratuity under rule 2.3 is not permissible.

In words condonation of interruption for pension gratuity in temporary officiating service is permissible only where the broken period of temporary officiating service is qualifying i.e. it exceeds five years or is followed by confirmation.

Where neither condition is fulfilled condonation of interrupt is not permissible.
